

The call you never planned for...

Just Happened

Nobody wants to receive the call that something has happened to Mom or Dad, but many of us won't be able to avoid it.

Crisis situations can quickly become overwhelming, leaving family members confused about what to do, searching for documents or even wondering what their loved one's desires are.

CRISIS ASSISTANCE

In the event of a crisis, having the ability to make informed decisions is critical!

Care Right has decades of experience in helping families tackle the myriad of issues that arise as part of a crisis. We provide the guidance needed for families to :

- Properly understand the care needs of their loved one going forward
- Outline the options and facilities available to administer that care
- Discuss the financial implications
- Heal strained family relationships and build consensus on the care plan
- Facilitate timely and consistent communication with family members, especially those who are remote
- Compile vital documents & information in the Grab and Go Binder
- Coordinate discharges and admissions
